

- Part One The Transport Situation Today
- Chapter 1 Introduction
 - The Present Situation
 - Cars in Cities
 - Park and Ride
 - Moving Around Residential Areas
- Chapter 2 Improving Public Transport
 - Buses
 - Light Rail; An Alternative to Trams
 - Light Rail in City Centres
 - Suburban Travel
 - The Rebirth of the Railways
 - High Speed Rail Travel
 - Metros and Rapid Transit
 - Station Design
- Chapter 3 Towards a Better Environment
 - Bringing Back Walking
 - The New Interest in Cycling
- Part Two Transport and the Future City
- Chapter 4 Roads in the Future City
 - The Intelligent Highway
 - Public Transport
 - Automated Highways
 - Paying for Road Space
- Chapter 5 The Future City Centre
 - Traffic in Centres
 - Handling Goods in Deliveries
 - Walking in the Future City
 - Cold Weather Cities and Arcaded Streets
 - Covered Streets, Covered Cities
- Chapter 6 Transport Availability in City Centres
 - Underground Systems
 - The Case for Surface Light Rail
 - A Future for Elevated Systems
 - Small Monorails
 - Pedestrian Systems
 - Vehicles in Future City Centres
 - Clean Air
 - Dealing With Cars
 - Deliveries
 - A Car-Free London
- Chapter 7 Future Sub Centres
 - Future Residential Areas
 - The Low Density Dilemma
 - Intelligent Cars and Highways
 - Transport in the Suburbs

- Low Density and Long Walks
- Cycling
- High and Low Density Living
- Car-Free Housing
- Part 3 The New Transport Technology
- Chapter 8 Moving Pavements
- City Cars
- Smart Car Clubs
- Smart Bikes
- Car Clubs
- Personal Rapid Transit
- Group Rapid Transit
- Horizontal Elevators and Peplemovers
- The Future of Buses
- Guided Buses
- Vehicles and Design
- The New Fuels
- Future Light Rail Systems
- Integrated Transport - Only Connect
- Conclusions
- Selected Bibliography
- Acknowledgements
- Comparative Systems
- Index