

- Preface p. iii
- Contributors p. ix
- 1. Toward an Integrated Electrophoretic Microdevice for Clinical Diagnostics Braden C. Giordano and Jerome Ferrance and James P. Landers p. 1
- 2. Creating a Lab-on-a-Chip with Microfluidic Technologies Anne R. Kopf-Sill and Andrea W. Chow and Luc Bousse and Claudia B. Cohen p. 35
- 3. Short Tandem Repeat Analysis on Microfabricated Electrophoretic Devices Dieter Schmalzing and Aram Adourian and Lance Koutny and Paul Matsudaira and Daniel Ehrlich p. 55
- 4. Basic Sample Preparation: DNA Separation and Purification Rama Ramanujam and Wendy Sacks and Jie Kang p. 71
- 5. Multiplexed Integrated Online Sample Preparation for DNA Sequencing and Genetic Typing Edward S. Yeung p. 87
- 6. Interfacing Capillaries to Microseparation Devices for Sample Introduction Steven W. Suljak and Andrew G. Ewing p. 129
- 7. Electric-Field-Mediated Separation of DNA Fragments on Planar Microgels Andras Guttman p. 165
- 8. Development of Battery-Powered, Portable Instrumentation for Rapid PCR Analysis Phillip Belgrader and Bill Benett and Dean Hadley and Ray Mariella, Jr. and M. Allen Northrup and Jim Richards and Paul Stratton and Shanavaz Nasarabadi and Fred Milanovich p. 183
- 9. Practical Aspects of Sheath Flow Fraction Collection in Capillary Electrophoresis Odilo Muller and Hirofumi Suzuki p. 207
- 10. Active Microelectronic Array Systems for DNA Hybridization, Genotyping, Pharmacogenomic, and Nanofabrication Applications Michael J. Heller and Eugene Tu and Robert Martinsons and Richard R. Anderson and Christian Gurtner and Anita H. Forster and Ron Sosnowski p. 223
- 11. The Flow-thru Chip: A Miniature, Three-Dimensional Biochip Platform Adam Steel and Matt Torres and John Hartwell and Yong-Yi Yu and Nan Ting and Glenn Hoke and Hongjun Yang p. 271
- 12. DNA Arrayed on Plastic Devices Robert S. Matson p. 303
- 13. Microfluidic Devices Fabricated by Polymer Hot Embossing Holger Becker p. 319
- 14. Microfabricated Reactor Technology Tibor Chovan and Andras Guttman p. 351
- 15. Approaches to Miniaturized High-Throughput Screening of Chemical Libraries Damien Dunnington and Zhuyin Li and Alan Binnie and Henning Vollert p. 371
- 16. Integrated Microsystems in Clinical Chemistry: Constraints and Consequences Michael Bell p. 415
- Index p. 437
