

Table of contents

- Introduction
- Part 1 Historical Perspectives
- Introduction
- 1 Questions of Representation: The Poetic Origin of Architecture
- 2 On Paper: The Materiality of Architectural Drawings
- 3 Imagination and Architectural Representation
- 4 Drawing Adam's Navel: The Problem of Disegno as Creative Tension Between the Visible and Knowledgeable
- 5 Drawn to Scale: The Imaginative Inhabitation of Architectural Drawings
- 6 The Cultural Context of Design and the Corporeal Dynamism of Drawing as the Foundations for the Imagination of Construction
- 7 Architecture's Twinned Body: Building and Drawing
- 8 Translucent and Fluid: Piranesi's Impossible Plan
- 9 Contemplating the Unfinished
- 10 Le Corbusier's Spirals
- Part 2 Emergent Realities
- Introduction
- 11 Forms in the Dark: Nature, Waste and Digital Imitation
- 12 Concealment, Delay, and Topology in the Creation of Wondrous Drawing
- 13 A Digital Renaissance: Reconnecting Architectural Representation and Cinematic Visual Effects
- 14 Drawing Air: The Visual Culture of Bio-political Imaging
- 15 'Higher' Being and 'Higher' Drawing: Claude Bragdon's 'Fourth Dimension' and the Use of Computer Technology in Design
- Part 3 Critical Dimensions
- Introduction
- 16 Seeing Time/Writing Place
- 17 Marks in Space: thinking about drawing
- 18 Drawing Lines of Confrontation
- 19 Weather Architecture, Weather Drawing
- 20 Drawing on Light
- 21 Post Secular Architecture: Material, Intellectual, Spiritual Models
- 22 Specifying Materials: Language, Matter and the Conspiracy of Mutenes
- 23 Architecture as Image-Space-Text
- 24 Acts of Imagination and Reflection in Architectural Design
- 25 In the Corner of Perception - Spatial Experience in Distraction