

Table of contents

- Now a Few Words from the Authors
- Introduction Losing Perspective, Finding Duration
- What happens when architectural drawing leaves the drawing board and moves to the computer screen?
- Chapter 1 Framing
- What happens when movements are not in space and images not in our brains?
- Chapter 2 Immobile Cuts
- How can we develop an architectural drawing system from the intervals in matter-flux?
- Chapter 3 Shooting
- What happens when we relate movement, not to privileged poses, but to any-instant-whatever?
- Chapter 4 Mobile Sections
- How can we generate architectural spaces through drawing any-instant-whatever?
- Chapter 5 Assembling
- What happens when the sensori-motor schema breaks down and perceptions no longer result in action?
- Chapter 6 Cybernetic Seeds
- How can we generate space as seeds of different worlds in the making?
- Postscript Prologue to What is Possible
- Keywords
- Bibliography
- Index