

Table of Contents

- Preface to the third edition
- Acknowledgements
- Chapter 2 Psycholinguistics
- Chapter 7 Sociolinguistics
- Chapter 12 Audio- and video-recorded data
- International Phonetic Alphabet
- Chapter 1 Introduction: starting on the right foot
- Part I Areas Of Study And Project Ideas
- Chapter 5 Structure and meaning
- Chapter 8 Language and gender
- Chapter 3 First-language acquisition and development
- Part II Techniques For Collecting Data
- Chapter 4 Second-language acquisition
- Chapter 6 Style in spoken and written texts
- Chapter 11 Computer-mediated communication
- Chapter 9 Accents and dialects of English
- Chapter 10 History of English
- Chapter 13 Experiments
- Chapter 14 Questionnaires, interviews, and focus groups
- Chapter 15 Observation and case studies
- Chapter 16 Ethical considerations in research projects
- Part III Tools For Data Analysis
- Chapter 17 Transcribing speech phonetically and phonemically
- Chapter 18 Transcribing speech orthographically
- Chapter 19 Using computers to study texts
- Chapter 20 Statistics and your project
- Part IV Presenting Your Work
- Chapter 21 How to reference
- Chapter 22 Plagiarism and how to avoid it
- Chapter 23 Handy hints on writing good academic English
- Chapter 24 Hints on giving a good oral presentation
- References
- Index